FOREWORD

My paternal and maternal ancestors lived in Virginia. My association with family kin and friends who were born and reared in Virginia, early gave me the impression that once a Virginian, always a Virginian. They had left the land of their birth and settled in other states, yet their language and customs continued; their undying love of Virginia was the theme of song and story, and was transmitted to their children and their children's children.

This inherited love of Virginia caused me to fathom deeply into the history of the state and its pioneers, many of whom were my ancestors and allied families; among them are found the names of Chiles, Page, Perrott, Peyton, Martin, Johnson, Crew, Stanley, Clark, Terrell, Curtis, Ellyson, West, Lynch, Moorman, Reynolds, Anthony, Wrenn and others; all names that stood for power and influence in the founding, settlement and development of the Old Dominion and the other southern colonies. Among their descendants have been Governors of states, National and State Legislators, Ambassadors and Ministers to foreign Courts, men of eminence in military affairs, medicine, law, education and the sciences. Most of the others have been and are of that useful and necessary class of industrious and patriotic citizens.

In matters of historical and genealogical data, exact accuracy cannot be attained, neither should it be expected, since much material must be derived from tradition and unpublished memoranda, all of which have much value in furnishing clues that may lead to exact information, but of themselves, as soil upon which to grow family trees, are not to be considered absolutely dependable.

All genealogists are conscious of their deficiencies and expect those who are inclined to be critical will find much to condemn; but criticism should not deter those who have family historical data from making it available to the present genealogy-minded public.

The contents of this compilation have been obtained at much expense, through years of research and delving into state archives, county court records, church registers and vestry books, family Bibles and the most probable family traditions; also contributions by interested Terrell descendants and friends who have given not only their own personal family data, but any other that they could find.

It is with pleasure that I hereby express my great appreciation to these friends:

Miss Juliet Fauntleroy, Altavista, Va.; Mrs. R. C. Scott and Mrs. Maurice Moore, Lynchburg, Va.; Dr. Emmett H. Terrell, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. P. W. Hiden, Newport News, Va.; Mrs. William Winfield Wright, Portsmouth, Va.; Mr. Frank Watkins Terrell, Wayne, W. Va.; Mrs. Theodore Craven and Mrs. Sarah Henderson Wiggins, Indianapolis, Ind.; Mr. Willis Freeman, Chicago, Ill.; Professor Harris Hancock and Mr. Robert W. Carroll, Cincinnati, Ohio; Hon. James H. Terrell, New Vienna, Ohio, and all others whose contributions of family memoranda, and expressions of cordial interest have been most inspiring. Some of those mentioned are not now living, but the result of their genealogical labors still lives.

CELESTE JANE TERRELL BARNHILL.

HISTORICAL SKETCH

De Tirel seems to be the way the name started out from the town of Tirel, in France. The founder of the English and Irish Terrell families was Sir Walter de Tirel who went to England with William, the Conqueror. The titles of Sir Walter are quite overwhelming as published by different branches of the family, in pamphlets which are on file in the Heralds College, London.

The "Genealogy of Richmond and William Terrell" by Joseph Henry Terrell, of England, gives the descent of the Terrells in England and America from Edward I and Eleanor of Castile, and therefore, from the Saxon Kings, the Kings of France and Spain, the Dukes of Normandy, the Counts of Flanders, etc.

That history can be found in most of the genealogical libraries. Only as much as is necessary to give a historical background for American descendants is used in this compilation.

Humphrey Terrell married Jane Ingleton, of Thornton, heiress of the Ingletons of that place, in 1519. Doomsday Book states that "he seated himself at Thornton and was the ancestor of the Tyrrells of Oakley in this County and the Tyrrels of Castlethorpe." He also held the Manor of Bruyn and 500 acres. He died in 1548.

George Tyrrell, son of Humphrey and Jane Ingleton, married Eleanor, daughter of Sir Edward Montague, of Broughton. He held the Manors of Bruyn and Fobbing, in Essex. He died May 16, 1571.

William, son of George and Eleanor Montague, married Margaret (?), daughter of William Richmond, alias Webb, of Stewkley Grange, Bucks., and his second wife, Marjory, daughter of John Choke, Esq., of Shelborne, Wiltshire. William Tyrrell settled at Reading, not many miles from Thornton.

Robert, son of William and Margaret (?) Richmond Tyrrell, married June 29, 1617, to Jane, daughter of Robert and Joan Pigeon Baldwin, at St. Giles Church, Reading.

Robert and Joan Pigeon were married October 5, 1590, at St. Mary's, Reading.

(From "Cavaliers and Pioneers," Vol. I, No. 2, page 81.)

Some of these Terrells evidently moved into other colonies.

“At a court Holden at ye house of Mrs. Diana Ffooster the first Munday in Nov. Y day 1693-4.

“Upon petition exhibited to ye court by Mr. John Hunt praying yt Mrs. Ann Durant deliver all Books an writings belonging to ye estate of Mr. William Terrell Disceased. Ordered yt the sd Mrs. Ann Durant doe forthwith deliver to Mr. John Hunt surviving executor of Mr. William Terrells estate.”

(Colonial Records of North Carolina, Vol. I, page 399.)

There is a tradition in the Terrell family that Robert Terrell, brother of Richmond and William, was kidnapped by pirates, when a young boy, and brought to Virginia, and that his family knew nothing of his whereabouts until he was grown and made business trips to England.

Belief in the tradition has a solid basis of foundation in the fact that Robert was a man of affairs in Virginia at the age of 28, when he was a witness to a deed in York County, January 24, 1647.

Further evidence of the early advent of the Terrells in Virginia is found in the following note from “County Court Notes”, Vol. 4, No. 6, page 43, copied from Old Vol. 5, S. L. O.:

CHAPTER I

CHAPTER II

TIMOTHY TERRELL

Genealogists have expended much time in research for the parents of Timothy Terrell, father of Robert, Joseph and Timothy whose births are recorded in St. Peter's Parish, New Kent Co., Va.

In a Terrell history written by David Terrell, in 1783, the statement is made that Timothy was a brother to Richmond and William. This history was taken to Ohio by Benjamin Terrell, son of David, in 1833.

From many sources comes the statement that Timothy was the third son of Timothy, brother of Richmond and William. His oldest brother is said to have been born in 1647, another brother in 1650 and Timothy, Jr., in 1656. Timothy, son of Robert and Jane was baptized January 24, 1631/2. If the above data is correct, he would have been 16 when his first son was born. Instances of the kind are of record, but are very rare. One fact that may substantiate this record is that neither John nor Robert mentions him in their wills, but neither do they mention any of his children. This would also lead to the belief that he was not living, or had otherwise disappeared from the family circle.

Another attempt at the solution of the problem is that he was the second son of Sir Toby Terrell, brother of Robert of Reading, father of Richmond and William.

No proofs have been submitted for any of the foregoing propositions. They are inserted with the hope that they may provide a clue to the positive identity of Timothy's parents.

CHAPTER III

WILLIAM TERRELL AND SUSANNAH WATERS

A list of Terrell arrivals in Virginia shows William Terrell as coming in 1667 at the same time his brother, Robert, made one of his many trips from England. He is again listed in 1670, when his brother, Richmond brought 12 persons into the colony, one of whom was William. Richmond received "head rights" land for the 12 persons, of which 100 acres "was reserved for his brother, William;" the balance he sold.

Joseph Henry Tyrell, of England in his genealogy of the Terrell family in America, shows William with a wife, Martha, and a child. He merely inserted the data that had been sent to him from U. S., but offered no proof.

If William was a man of family when he came to Va., he did not bring them with him, at least they are not listed among the persons brought by Richmond, and we do not find any evidence of such persons.

Mr. Reginald M. Glencross London, Eng., made for Mrs. Sarah Wiggins and Mrs. John F. Barnhill, of Indianapolis, a diligent search for a marriage of William to Martha and found none. He sent other valuable data which was contributed by Mrs. Wiggins to the V. Mag. of Hist. and Biog.

William was probably in business in London when Robert made one of his return trips to England, in 1656, and said that he stayed at the house of "William Terrell, a kinsman."

He lived to be 98 years old. He had a grand-daughter who lived to be 103, Ann Lewis Terrell Willis.

WILLIAM and SUSANNAH TERRELL

New Kent, later, Hanover Co., Va.

→ William Terrell, son of Robert and Jane Baldwin Terrell, Reading, Berkshire, England, was baptized June 22, 1629, in St. Giles Church; came to America for residence in 1667 or 1670; m. Susannah, whose maiden name, according to family tradition, was Waters. The name is accepted by so many branches of the family that, without absolute proof, it must be correct. When they were married is not known, but the probability is that the marriage took place soon after William came to Va. Some tradition gives the marriage in England, but no mention is made of Susannah in lists of arrivals in which William figures. The children of Richmond and William were contemporaries, therefore they must have married after coming to Va., and when they were older than the usual marriageable age.

Extracts from Caroline Meeting of Quakers respecting their marriage laws.

“Manoah Chiles & Ann Cheadle published their intention of marriage the second time they appearing clear of all others & having consent of parents and friends concerned they are left to their liberty to solemnize the same”

“Whereas this intended marriage between Manoah Chiles & Ann Cheadle being contrary to the usual custom amongst Friends of proceeding too early in second marriage they Pleaded ignorant not knowing there was a minute of the Yearly Meeting to the contrary of Friends proceeding too early in second marriage therefore this shall not be precedent for others to follow”

There was a rule of Quakers forbidding even a proposal of a second marriage in less than a year after the death of the former wife.

This minute is of especial interest as it explains many disownments for “indiscretions prejudicial to the good order of Friends” It was a rule promulgated early in the history of Quakerism and was embodied in their laws and rules of discipline.

The Legend of the origin of the Johnston Coat of Arms.

The Johnston (Johnson) family were Scotch-Irish, and in Scotland, the first Johnstons to use this Coat of Arms, adopted it for the following reason:

He was belated in coming home one night and stopped at the Castle of a Clansman who had at one time been at enmity with him.

The breach had been healed (he thought) and when he stopped at the Castle, the Lord invited him most cordially to spend the night at his stronghold.

This he did; A banquet was prepared for him and all the clansmen nearby were bidden to the feast.

As the food was passed to the guests, a covered dish was passed to the Johnston, when he lifted the cover, he saw inside a pair of Pheasant wings and a spur.

The wife of the host was a kind woman, and she knew the gathering meant death to Johnston, so she devised this means of warning him.

He excused himself from the table, found his horse and escaped.

MOORMAN

Zachariah Moorman was born in Isle of Wight, England, in 1620. At the age of 19 he joined the British Army and became a Capt. in Cromwell's army in the invasion of Ireland. After the subjugation of Ireland, he lived there a few years, probably near Belfast, and married a Miss Candler, sister or daughter of William Candler, a lieutenant in Cromwell's army, who was awarded estates in Ireland.

Zachariah Moorman returned to the Isle of Wight and lived there a few years, but being a sympathizer of Charles I, he became an enemy of Cromwell for having the king beheaded, and was exiled from the British Isles.

In the spring of 1669, Zachariah Moorman and his children, Thomas, Charles (?), and Sally Ann, who m. Micajah Clark, embarked at Southampton, England, in the ship Glasgow and sailed to Barbados Island, in the West Indies. Others who sailed with the Moormans were: Michael and Margaret Clark and their sons, Micajah, Francis, Edward, Roger, William, Thomas and Christopher.

Early next year Zachariah Moorman and family and Micajah and Sally Ann (Moorman) Clark joined immigrants who sailed to S. Carolina, landing near the site of Charleston where the first permanent colony was being formed in South Carolina.

Thomas Moorman came to S. Car., where he was landed proprietor, having been granted land by the London Co. He later moved to Nansemond Co., Va., where he was a vestryman in 1679. He moved in the same year to Green Springs, Louisa Co., Va. He m. Elizabeth ———, whose maiden name is not known. Their children are recorded in New Kent Co., Virginia; Mary, baptized August 29, 1686, Andrew, bap. November 4, 1689 and Charles, bap. 1684.

Charles Moorman, son of Thomas and Elizabeth, m. Elizabeth Reynolds, daughter of Christopher Reynolds. They settled near Green Springs, Louisa Co., Va., where he was a justice of the peace. It is said that Charles was 15 and Elizabeth was 13 when they were m. and she was 15 when their oldest son, Thomas, was born. They were Quakers, but owned slaves. He and his son, Thomas, were overseers of Friends. Their extensive possessions on the Moorman river accounts for the same. The children of Charles and Elizabeth Reynolds were Thomas, b. Sept. 14, 1705, who m. 1st, Rachel Clark, dau. of Capt. Christopher Clark and his wife Penelope Bolling; 2nd, a Miss Adams; Judith, m. John Douglas, of Louisa Co., Va.; Charles, m. 1st, Mary Adams, dau. of Robert and Mourning Adams, and 2nd, Mary Venable, dau. of Abraham Venable; Achilles, b. 1713; m. Elizabeth Adams, dau. of Robert and Mourning Adams; Ann, m. Thomas Martin, son of John Martin, b. 1685, son of Abram Martin, immigrant from Galway, Ireland, to Va., in 1680.

Thomas Moorman, son of Charles and Elizabeth was the father of 12 children, one of whom, Zachariah, m. Elizabeth Terrell, dau. of Henry and Ann Chiles Terrell.

(From the family history of the late Mr. Jesse Bryan, St. Louis.) (For a full history of the Moorman family see the Johnson genealogy being compiled by Louis Johnson, Attica, Ind.)

Christopher and Penelope Clark lived near Green Spring, Louisa Co., on a plantation of 500 acres. In 1705, Christopher was granted 100 acres on Beaverdam Creek, Hanover Co., for the transportation of two persons into the colony. In 1716 he patented 500 acres in Henrico Co. Later, he entered in various tracts more than 500 acres in Louisa and Albemarle counties. He cut a road from his residence in Green Spring to his land in Albemarle, which became a permanent road, known as the "Clark Track."

An order of New Kent Co. Court, dated Jan. 28, 1707, appointed Christopher Clark, surveyor of a new horse bridge to be built over Beaver Dam Swamp. Edward Clark and others to give their attendance, etc. (From St. Paul's Parish Vestry Book, Valentine Museum, Richmond, Virginia.)

Christopher Clark was a tobacco planter and merchant, and owned slaves. He practiced law, probably in a small way. His law partner was Nicholas Meriwether, ancestor of Meriwether Lewis, the explorer.

Christopher was a captain of militia, of Henover Co., in 1727, and a judge of the first court of Louisa Co., in 1727. He was never a Quaker, probably, but all his children were, for a time at least. He died, 1754.

In his will, dated May 5, 1686-87, and recorded Feb. 24, 1691, he mentioned his grandson, John Chiles and his grand-daughter, Elizabeth Tyler.

At a court held for York County, June 24, 1707, John Tyler, who describes himself "as son of Henry Tyler of York Co., and grandson of Col. John Page, formerly of ye sd county, dec'd," came into court and acknowledged a receipt from John Page of ye sd county of Gloucester, of 50 pounds sterling "for a legacie left me by the last will and testament of ye sd Col. ## LYNCH LINE

MAJOR CHARLES LYNCH, THE EMIGRANT

About 1720-'25 Charles Lynch, a youth of about 15 or 18 years of age, ran away from his home in Galway, Ireland, and came to America. The immediate cause of his leaving home, according to the tradition repeated by his great-granddaughter, Mrs. Mary Ann Dearing, was the harsh and unjust treatment of his stepmother. According to another version, he was angered because of a punishment received at school. At any rate, soon after leaving his father's roof, he met up with the captain of a vessel on the point of sailing for Virginia and was easily persuaded to avail himself of the opportunity of seeking his fortune in that far off land. The ship on which he took passage was but a short distance from shore when young Lynch, his heart failing him, actually plunged into the sea and made for land. He was, however, taken up and the vessel resumed her course. On reaching America, the captain apprenticed young Lynch, for his passage over, to Christopher Clark, a well-to-do tobacco planter in what is now Louisa county, Virginia. But romance soon took a hand and Lynch lost his heart to Miss Sarah Clark, one of the four daughters of Christopher Clark, and they were finally married about 1733.

If we may judge of the first Charles Lynch by his descendants, he was probably tall, fair and personable. His after life proves that he had abundant energy, a good mind, and an education and strength of character far above the average, so that he soon became a leading man in his community.

In 1773 Charles Lynch obtained a patent for 800 acres of land which extended up the Rivanna from the mouth of Moore's Creek, and included the plantation of Pen Park in the present Albemarle County, which was then Goochland. In 1741 Charles Lynch was one of the justices for Goochland County. When the first Court was held for Albemarle County in February, 1745, he was one of the justices present. At the June Court, 1745, Charles Lynch and others produced commissions from the Governor as Captains, and took the usual oaths. (Wood's History of Albemarle.) In September, 1744, a ferry was established from Charles Lynch's plantation in Goochland County on the North Anna, across the said river to the land of the said Charles Lynch. (Henning, Vol. 5, p. 250.) In October, 1748, a ferry was established from Charles Lynch's plantation in Albemarle County on the Rivanna, across the said river to the land of Richard Meriwether. In 1745 Charles Lynch was one of those appointed to view the James River and select a place for the court house. David Lewis was Surveyor of the road over Capt. Charles Lynch's Ford or Ferry. Joshua Fry and Charles Lynch were appointed to apply to the Louisa Court to continue the road over King's Ford on the Rivanna from the county line to Louisa C. H. Charles Lynch was one of those appointed to list the tithables on the north side of the Fluvanna River.

Major Charles Lynch represented Albemarle County in the House of Burgesses in 1748 and 1749 and it is said he was elected to this honorable office without his knowledge. (Recollections of Lynchburg.) He was sheriff of Albemarle County in 1749-1751, that office then including the duties of our present treasurer.

Besides the 800 acres of land he patented on the Rivanna in 1733, Charles Lynch took up many other patents. In all, he took up about 2,400 acres on the Rivanna, 2,500 acres on the Hardware River, 800 on Mechum's River, nearly 2,000 acres on Staunton River in what was then Brunswick County, and 1,825 acres along the James River, where Lynchburg now is, the latter two tracts lying in the present Campbell County.

All the land in Albemarle County he appears to have sold. That on the Staunton River and on the James River he left to his children. He is thought to have moved to Chestnut Hill, a place about three miles from Lynchburg, about 1750. His will dated October 9, 1752, was proved May 10, 1753, and recorded in Albemarle County.

3. Sarah Lynch, b. 1738, died 5th mo. 10th, 1773; m. 2nd mo. 20th, 1754, Micajah Terrell, son of David Terrell and his wife, Agatha Chiles. He was, therefore, double first cousin to Anna Terrell, wife of Col. Charles Lynch. The Quaker records show that on the 15th of the 1st mo., 1774, "The committee appointed to collect and bring in the dying sayings and death of deceased Friends brought in some of the last expressions of Sarah Terrell, who departed this life the 10th of 5th mo. 1773, and also a testimony concerning her which was read to good satisfaction." On the same day, Micajah Terrell set his Negroes free, in accordance with her wish. Micajah Terrell and his wife were both Quaker preachers.

4. John Lynch, founder of Lynchburg, b. 1740; d. Oct. 31, 1820. m. about 1768, Mary Bowles, who died 1829.

5. Christopher Lynch, b. about 1742, d. 1782; m. October 15, 1765, Anne Ward, daughter of Major John Ward and his wife, Anne Chiles. Issue a daughter, Penelope, who died at the age of 13 or 14., and a daughter, Nancy, who married Sam Mitchell, a Methodist preacher. The following is from "The Press and Public Advertiser," an early Lynchburg paper, for December 3, 1819:

Case in Superior Court of Chancery

"John A. Hamilton, Thomas Hamilton, Francis Hamilton, Walter Baker and Jacobina, his wife, Jesse Adams and Elizabeth, his wife, Francis A. Hamilton, and Carolina, Ursula, Alexander, Thomas, Francis and Magdaline Baker, Plaintiffs, Against:

"John Lynch, the elder, Charles Lynch, Anselm Lynch and John Lynch, Jr., heirs of Charles Lynch, decd., Charles L. Mitchell, Edward Mitchell and . . . . . Mitchell, heirs of . . . . . Mitchell, decd. who was the only daughter and heir at law of Christopher Lynch, decd., Defendants.”

Charles L. Mitchell was postmaster of Lynchburg in 1820. On September 7, 1820, a notice appeared in the paper beginning, “Mr. Charles L. Mitchell, as you are not an inhabitant of this Commonwealth,” etc. . . . . and signed by John Overstreet. The name “Mary J. Mitchell” is found on a sampler worked by Sallie Miller Lynch in 1817. Nothing more is known of the Mitchells.

The widow of Christopher Lynch, Anne (Ward) Lynch, m. a second time Benjamin Dillard, and had a son, Lynch Dillard. In May, 1780, a petition was presented to the Legislature protesting against any other division of Bedford County than of that part of it south of the Staunton River. Among the signers was Christopher Lynch.

6. Edward Lynch, died unmarried.

COLONEL CHARLES LYNCH II

Colonel Charles Lynch, the eldest son of Major Charles Lynch, the emigrant, and his wife, Sarah Clark, was born in 1736 in what was then Goochland County but was afterwards formed into Albemarle. He was brought up a Quaker and became one of their leading men. He was one of the founders of the South River Meeting and was clerk of that meeting from the 15th of the 7th month, 1758, until the 20th of the 12th month, 1767, when he was “disowned” for taking solemn oaths contrary to our known principles.” (Our Quaker Friends, by J. P. Bell.)

Colonel Charles Lynch represented Bedford County in the House of Burgesses in May, 1769, and was one of the signers of a non-importation agreement adopted by the members after Governor Botetourt dissolved the Assembly. He was also a member of the House of Burgesses from Bedford County at the sessions beginning Nov. 7, 1769; May 21, 1770; July 11, 1771; Feb. 10, 1772; March 4, 1773; May 5, 1774, and June 1, 1775. He was a member of the Va. State Conventions which met March 20, 1775; July 17, 1775, and May 6, 1776. After the adoption of the new Constitution in 1776, he was a member of the House of Delegates from Bedford County in 1776 and 1777. After the close of the Revolution, he was a member of the State Senate 1785-85, 1785-86, 1786-87, 1787-88 and 1789. (Stanard's Va. Colonial Register.)

Colonel Charles Lynch served for many years as a justice of the County Court. On May 23, 1775, he was chosen as a member of the Committee of Safety for Bedford County. (Wm. & Mary Quarterly, Vol. V (1896-7) p. 253.)

On May 17, 1776, James Mercer, one of a committee to encourage the making of salt, salt petre and gun powder, reported from the Committee of Safety a resolution relating to the proposition of Charles Lynch as to making salt petre from rocks.

In Jefferson's "Notes on Virginia" written in 1781, he says there was a very large cave on Rich Creek, a branch of the Kanawah, and "Mr. Lynch made about 1,000 pounds of salt from this creek . . . . ."

Colonel Charles Lynch and Captain Calloway, acting as agents of the State of Virginia, operated the lead mines on New River, and in 1781 a patent was issued to Charles Lynch, trustee for the lead mine company. In October, 1787, an act was passed establishing a ferry from the land of Charles Lynch at the lead mines in the county of Montgomery across New River to the opposite shore.

During the Revolution Col. Charles Lynch raised a regiment of riflemen. At the battle of Guilford Court House, March 15, 1781, Col. Lynch's regiment, reduced to two hundred men, held position on the right flank of Greene's army and did gallant service.

During the closing years of the Revolution when the country was infested with Tories and horse thieves, Col. Charles Lynch, with Robert Adams, Jr., his brother-in-law or nephew, and his neighbor, Col. James Callaway, County Lieutenant of Bedford, took it upon themselves to protect society and support the Revolutionary government in the region of Staunton River. Tories and suspicious characters falling into their hands were brought to a speedy trial, Col. Lynch presiding. If proven guilty, tradition says they were suspended from an old walnut tree still standing at Col. Charles Lynch's home, and received nine and thirty lashes on the bare back and sometimes a coat of tar and feathers. The old rhyme runs:

"Hurrah for Col. Lynch, Capt. Bob and Callaway,
They never let a Tory rest till he cried out for Liberty."

It is said they once unearthed a dangerous conspiracy by discovering some papers concealed in the hollow post of an old four-poster bed. The leader of this conspiracy, after receiving the usual punishment, was lodged in a cabin on the premises with a strict injunction not to leave the yard under penalty of further punishment. No guard was assigned to watch over him, but so thoroughly was he impressed with Col. Charles Lynch's methods that his orders were scrupulously observed. It will be noted that Col. Lynch and his associates never inflicted the death penalty in the course of their trials, notwithstanding the present use of the term Lynch Law, which is really only mob law. Col. Lynch was often called Judge Lynch in the latter years of his life.

In Henning's Statutes at Large, Vol. II, p. 134, appears an act passed October, 1782, exonerating William Preston, Robert Adams, Jr., James Callaway and Charles Lynch from all penalties, suits, damages, etc., incurred by their action in suppressing a conspiracy against the Commonwealth in the year 1780.

After the surrender of Cornwallis in the fall of 1781, Col. Lynch returned home and, it seems, disbanded his regiment, for the records of Campbell County Court show that at the first term of that court which was held at the house of Micajah Terrell, a brother-in-law of Col. Lynch, on Feb. 7, 1782, by virtue of a "Commission of the peace and oyer and terminer," directed to Charles Lynch and several other prominent men of that time, Col. Lynch was recommended by his associate justices to "His Excellency the Governor as a suitable person to execute the office of a colonel of the militia of this county." He retained command of the county militia until peace with Great Britain was fully established and did not assume his duties as a justice of Campbell County Court until February 5, 1784, on which date he took the oath of office.

Among the Executive papers for 1785 in the Virginia State Library is the following:

"List of Gent. appd. to recommend Field Officers for Campbell County: James Callaway, Charles Lynch, John Ward, Edm. Winston, Robert Adams, John Quarles."

In accordance with this recommendation, we find that among the field officers appointed in 1785, Commission No. 37 was given to C. Lynch, Lieutenant Colonel.

At the September Court, 1781, held for Bedford County, Charles Lynch, Francis Thorpe and John Talbot Gent. were recommended as proper persons to execute the office of Sheriff the ensuing year.

The first order book of Campbell County affords other interesting items: In March, 1782, "Charles Lynch Gent. proved to the satisfaction of the Court that he furnished to the Militia at the lead mines with three pound of powder for which he is allowed at at the rate of six shillings per pound, which is ordered to be certified."

In April, 1782, Charles Lynch Gent. proved that he furnished to the commissary 2,180 pounds of beef.

Quite a number of orders are on record making various allowances to persons for supplies (thirty gallons of whisky being mentioned in the lot), furnished to "Colonel Charles Lynch's volunteers on their march to the southward to join General Greene's army."

In 1766 Charles Lynch was one of a committee appointed to treat with workmen to build a new Court House for Bedford County at New London.

In February, 1772, an act was passed appointing trustees to regulate the making of slopes for the passage of fish in the mill dams in the County of Bedford. Among the trustees named was Charles Lynch.

In May, 1783, an act was passed for clearing Roanoke River and extending the navigation of the River Roanoke. Charles Lynch and Robert Adams were among those authorized to receive subscriptions for that purpose.

Col. Charles Lynch patented large tracts of land in Bedford, Campbell and Pittsylvania counties. In fact, he was quite a speculator in land and the deed books of the first two counties named, especially, are full of deeds showing his transactions in land.

Col. Charles Lynch married on the 12th day of the 1st month, 1755, Anna Terrell, daughter of Henry Terrell of Caroline County, and his wife, Anne Chiles, he being then 19 and she, 14. He made his home on Staunton River, above the mouth of Otter, on land inherited from his father. The old name of the place was Green Level; it was afterwards changed to Avoca by Mrs. M. A. Dearing, who was a great admirer of Moore's poems and particularly of the one of the "Sweet Vale of Avoca."

Col. Charles Lynch and his wife are both buried in the old graveyard at Avoca and their tombstones bear the following inscriptions:

In memory
of
Col. Charles Lynch
a zealous & active
Patriot of the Revolution
Died October 29th, 1796
Aged 60 years

In memory of
Anna Lynch
Wife of Col. C. Lynch
She belonged to the Society of Friends
Died Febr. 14th, 1804
Aged 65 years

Col. Charles Lynch's sword, a plain, heavy one, was preserved at Avoca until the second Avoca house was burned in September, 1900. Some of the silver plated buttons from his Revolutionary uniform are still preserved among his descendants, as are his silver ladle marked "C. L." and an old silver spoon marked "C. A. L." (Charles and Anna Lynch).

He married his first cousin, Anne Terrell, daughter of Micajah and Sarah Lynch Terrell and granddaughter of David and Agatha Chiles Terrell. #### CHARLES LYNCH III

Charles Lynch, eldest son of Col. Charles and Anna Terrell Lynch, was born Nov. 28, 1756. He married Sally Adams, daughter of Robert Adams and his wife, Penelope Lynch (mrge. bond Oct. 20, 1777, in Bedford County, Virginia). After the Revolution he moved to Kentucky. The first land grants to Charles Lynch were dated 1785 and 1786, when very few counties had been formed in Kentucky. Charles Lynch bought from Daniel Boone a place in Shelby County called Squire Boone's Station, afterwards known as Capt. Lynch's and Col. Lynch's Station, and this was probably where Shelbyville now stands. His name appears frequently in the records of Mercer, Shelby, Lincoln and Jefferson Counties. Mercer County was formed from Lincoln in 1785, and Shelby County from Jefferson in 1792. In 1797 he appears in court records as Charles Lynch of Mercer County, but in 1800, he was back in Shelby County. First and last he owned over 70,000 acres of land in Kentucky, as shown by the records of Shelby County. Will Taylor, Blanton and Knox were frequently partners with Lynch in the sale of lands. At the trial of Aaron Burr, Charles Lynch testified that he had sold him (Burr) 000 acres of land. Sarah Lynch did not acknowledge the release of her dower rights in these deeds, but on March 5, 1822, she appeared at the Court and gave relinquishment to about forty pieces of land in Shelby County. Charles Lynch frequently served on juries up to 1820. In Circuit Court Charles Lynch had several suits, but he was always the plaintiff, suing for money due on notes. He died in July, 1822. The first county seat of Oldham County, Kentucky, was called the "Town of Lynchburg". The court house was built there in 1824. In 1828, the county seat was moved to Westport, four miles away, and later to LaGrange.

It was then in Bedford County, but was included in Campbell when that county was formed, by an act of Legislature passed in 1781. According to the Lancaster Bible, Anselm Lynch was born June 8, 1760. In March, 1781, when only a youth, he took part in the Battle of Guilford Court House. On September 24, 1781, he was recommended as First Lieutenant of Militia in Bedford County. In March, 1782, he was recommended as a Captain of Militia in Campbell County. After the Revolution, Anselm Lynch served for many years as a Justice of Campbell County, to which office he was sworn in February, 1802. He was also a member of the State Legislature in 1809, 1810, 1811 and 1812. He was a breeder of fine horses and had a race track laid off near his home, on the place now owned by W. G. Frazier.

He married, marriage bond dated November 24, 1799, Mrs. Susan (Miller) Baldwin, widow of Dr. Zebulon Baldwin and the daughter of John Miller and his second wife, Mrs. Mary (Moorman) Johnson, widow of Benjamin Johnson.

"STAUNTON" JOHN LYNCH

Captain John Lynch, son of Col. Charles and Anna Terrell Lynch, was born at "Avoca", formerly called "Green Level", on September 17, 1769; died in Tennessee, June 14, 1842, he having moved to Jackson, Tenn., about 1825. He was called "Staunton" John Lynch to distinguish him from his uncle, John Lynch, the founder of Lynchburg.

At the Court held for Campbell County in September, 1796, it was ordered "that John Lynch be recommended to his Excellency, the Governor, & Council as a Proper Person to Execute the Office of Grenadier Captain in the Militia of this County in the room of Wm. Norvell, who has resigned that Office." Until he moved to Tennessee he lived at "Otterbourne", a place about two miles from "Avoca". He married January 2, 1794, Anne Terrell, daughter of Micajah and Sarah Lynch Terrell. She was born October 21, 1768, and died February 24, 1834. Both are buried in Tennessee.

Mrs. Anne Terrell Lynch was a very gentle, sweet woman, a member of the Society of Friends. She was very much beloved by the motherless children of her brother-in-law, Anselm Lynch, who lived only two miles away at "Avoca". The will of John Lynch, dated October 24, 1841, was proved August 22, 1842, and recorded at Jackson, Madison County, Tennessee. It was proved to be all in his own handwriting by Burnell C. Keats and Samuel C. Lancaster.

GOV. CHARLES LYNCH

So far as we know, Charles Lynch had only two children who survived: (1) Charles Lynch, IV and, (2) Mildred Lynch, who married Stephen Smith. (Marriage bond in Shelby County, Kentucky, dated December 18, 1798.) Charles Lynch, IV, married a Miss Sedley. In 1830 Charles Lynch was living in Lawrence County, Mississippi. In 1836 he was a Justice of Hinds County. In 1839 he gave a power of attorney to his son, Sedley M. Lynch. From "Conspectus of American Biography": Charles Lynch, 8th and 10th Governor of Mississippi, emigrated to Mississippi at an early age and settled in Monticello, Lawrence County, where he was engaged in mercantile pursuits with considerable success. He subsequently represented that county in the State Senate. He was president of the Senate in 1833 and, by virtue of his position when Governor Scott died in 1833, the duties of Chief Magistrate descended upon him under the new constitution. He conducted the affairs of state from June of that year until the inauguration of his successor in November following. He was regularly elected Governor by the Whig party two years later and served from January 7, 1836, until January 7, 1838. During this period of his administration the people of Mississippi were much excited over the "flush times" and the great financial panic which followed in 1837. It was also remarkable for the rapid increase of immigration from the older states and foreign vessels loaded with imports, ascended the Mississippi to Natchez for the first time. After the expiration of his term, Governor Lynch retired to Monticello, where he died in February, 1853, aged 70 years.

She was the daughter of Judge A. L. and Elizabeth O. Smith Dabney. William L. Ware joined the Confederate Army at the age of 18 and was promoted to Adjutant for bravery at the Battle of Shiloh in April, 1862. He received wounds which made him an invalid for many months. He died in 1876 at his plantation, "Lynchfield".

ADAMS LINE

ROBERT ADAMS

Penelope Lynch, eldest daughter of Major Charles Lynch and his wife, Sarah Clark, was born about 1734; married Robert Adams, usually spoken of as "Old Robin Adams", to distinguish him from his son, Captain Robert. here is in Albemarle County a deed which gives the approximate date of this marriage. It is from Charles Lynch to Robert Adams, dated January 13, 1749, and conveys 400 acres of land in Albemarle County, on the south side of the Rivana River, with this note: "Memorandum—that the within named Robert Adams do agree after the acknowledgement of this deed that he has received satisfaction of the within nam'd Charles Lynch two hundred pounds Current money that he promised him with his daughter Penelope at marrig."

Robert Adams was the son of Robert Adams of Goochland County, (will February 2, 1738-9; probated June 17, 1740), and his wife, Mourning, who is said to have been a Lewis.

In March, 1745, Robert Adams was one of those appointed to appraise the estate of Charles Bladey, deceased. He continued to live in Albemarle County after the Lynch family moved away. In January, 1773, he appears in a deed as Robert Adams of Albemarle County. But in the census of 1782-3 we find him living in Pittsylvania County, with seven in family and three slaves. He is said to have lived at a place across Staunton River from Col. Charles Lynch's home, and a little higher up the river. The dwelling disappeared long ago; some old tombstones are still there, but no inscriptions. Robert Adams probably spent his last years at the home of his son, Capt. Robert Adams, Jr., in Campbell County, where Altavista now stands.

In April, 1785, Robert Adams, Jr., and Charles Lynch were appointed administrators of the estate of Robert Adams, deceased, and Philip Payne, John Ward and Henry Kidson were named to appraise his property. This inventory was recorded in Campbell County, May 5, 1785.

ROBERT ADAMS, JR.

Robert Adams, Jr., usually called "Captain Bob", was born about 1750-54, and died about 1790. He was appointed on the Commission for the Peace for Bedford County, Virginia, February 24, 1778; qualified to that office in March, 1778, and served until September, 1781, when he resigned. He served under his uncle, Col. Charles Lynch, at the lead mines, and was associated with him in suppressing Tories and malefactors, by the so-called "Lynch Law". He was mentioned by name in the law passed by the General Assembly in 1781, exempting from suits, and justifying the conduct of those who had protected this section of the state from the depredations of Tories and evil-doers, albeit by measures not strictly within the law.

He was a member of the first Commission of the Peace for Campbell County on February 7, 1782. He represented Campbell County in the House of Delegates in 1782-83. He was recommended for Sheriff in April, 1783, and again in 1787. He qualified to that office in July, 1787, and served until September, 1789. The duties of Sheriff then included those of Treasurer. Conditions were then unsettled and taxes hard to collect. Whether because of that or because he went security for his brother, James, he became financially involved, and was liable for about $30,000. After his death all his property had to be sold to pay those debts.

He married, about 1770, Mary Terrell, daughter of Joel and his wife, Ann Lewis, who survived him for 50 years, dying 1841-42. He lived at what used to be known as the old "Brook's Place", now the site of "Altavista".

DEARING LINE

Elizabeth Adams, called "Betsy", daughter of Robert Adams and his wife, Penelope Lynch, was born about 1765-'70, and died in 1834. An inventory of her estate was made on January 12, 1835, and recorded in Campbell County. She married, about 1785, James Dearing, who was born July 3, 175-, and died October 13, 1811. (The dates are from his tombstone.) He was the son of Edward Dearing and the grandson of Robert Dearing of Orange County, Virginia. During the Revolution James Dearing served as a private in Captain Francis Taylor's Company, 2nd Virginia Regiment, commanded successively by Col. Alexander Spotswood and Col. Christian Febiger. His name first appears on a pay roll for that company for April, 1777, with remark: "To be paid from March 23, 1777". The roll for December, 1777, shows: "Time expires 10 April, 1778". His name last appears on the company pay roll for February, 1778, which shows: "Time of service, 21 days". On June 5, 1778 James Dearing was recommended as Lieutenant; in May, 1791, he was recommended as Captain of Militia, and on April 5, 1793, he was one of the militia officers recommended in Campbell County. On October 26, 1796, he was named as one of the Captains in the 53rd Regiment of Militia. On May 5, 1796, James Dearing and others were recommended "as Proper Persons to be added to the Commission of the Peace" in Campbell County.

James Dearing made his home at an old place on Otter River, several miles from Ward's Road, and he is buried there, his grave being marked by a stone furnished by the United States Department of War and erected by the Colonel Charles Lynch Chapter, D. A. R. His will, dated August 11, 1811, was proved November 11, 1811, and is recorded in Campbell County, Virginia.

Mrs. Betsy Adams Dearing is said to have been quick-tempered, but very energetic and industrious. Little is known of the ancestors of Captain James Dearing.

Robert Beverly of Spotsylvania County, in his will, made and proved in 1733, devised to Robert Dearing 200 acres of land of the Octronia Tract. This was probably the same Robert Dearing, whose will, dated October 18, 1753, was proved in Orange County July 27, 1758. In it he divided his land between Edward and Robert Dearing, his two sons, and left all his personal estate to his wife, Elizabeth Dearing, during her life, and at her death to be divided between Edward Dearing, Robert Dearing, Dorothea Hubbard, Elizabeth Head, Ann Harrell and Mary Ballard, and named his wife and his son, Robert, as executors.

Edward Dearing acquired land in what is now Campbell County and used sometimes to go up there on hunting trips. While out deer hunting one day with a party of men, they stopped to eat a lunch at the spring near where the old Shiloh Baptist Church afterwards stood. When they had finished their lunch, the other men started off. After going a little way, they noticed that Dearing was not with them. Turning back to see what had become of him, they found him dead where he had been sitting on a log by the spring. He is said to be buried in an old graveyard near the site of the old Shiloh Church and near where Mr. Jackson afterwards lived. This incident was told me by Mr. Daniel Johnson, who was born in 1804 and died in 1897. The grave is said to be by itself out in front of Mrs. Robert's house, on the old Urquahart place. On December 27, 1782, Edward Dearing conveyed to Benjamin Johnson 274 acres of land in Orange County, Virginia, in consideration of "six likely negroes about sixteen years of age and one still containing fifty-three gallons". This was probably the land he inherited from his father, Robert Dearing; and Benjamin Johnson was the father of Governor Barbour's wife, and the grandfather of the late B. Johnson Barbour.

Edward Dearing is said to have owned land adjoining the old Porter place in Campbell County, Virginia. The will of Edward Dearing, dated February 1, 1790, and proved August 4, 1791, names the following children: Daughter, Rosamond White; and sons, John Dearing, Anthony Dearing, Robert Dearing, James Dearing and William Dearing. His sons, James Dearing and William Dearing, were named as executors. The witnesses were Benjamin Haden, John Anthony and James Quarles. An appraisal of the estate of Edward Dearing was recorded in Campbell County on August 29, 1791, the appraisers being John Anthony, John Baber and Christopher Irvine.

The first years of his married life were spent at his father's old home on Otter River, where their two eldest children were born. Then, as tuberculosis developed, he sold his old home and rented the Tardy place at Otter River for a year, intending to move to Florida the next year. At this place their third child, General James Dearing, was born. He then abandoned the idea of going to Florida, and bought "Otterbourne" in July, 1840, from Captain John Lynch, or "Staunton John Lynch". Here their fourth child was born and here Col. Dearing died. He is buried at his father's old home on Otter River.

Will of David Terrell, Son of David and Agatha Chiles Terrell, Campbell Co., Virginia. 1804-1805

Be it known to all whom it may concern that I David Terrell of Campbell County having my common senses and memory do constitute and appoint this to be my last will and testament in manner and form as followeth—

First I most earnestly request and entreat of the parties to whom the following legacies shall be left to do me so much honor after my decease as to receive their respective legacies in peace and quietness as I aim at impartial justice.

In the date I think 1766 I sold a negro boy nam'd Billy to Henry stone who then lived on the north side of the Dan River near the mouth of Mountain run. I was at Ep. Stones son of Henry in N. Carolina 8 or 10 miles southward from Danville who informed me that the negro not long since lived in the Tenicy State on the Holston in the possession of a stranger Ep Stone informed me of his having two brother in (law?) living near where the negro lives by whom he expected to fully to inform me about him as he expected to go thither next spring after which he promist to inform me by letter left with Henry Terrell The negro aforesaid I desire may be diligently searched for as for hidden treasure and if found to be freed from slavery at the expense of that part of my estate as my executors hereafter mentioned shall think may best— spared

I give to my wife one sorrel mare formerly the property of Thomas Clark one young gray horse a foal of the aforesaid mare and a blind mare with a blaze a saddle and bridle one feather bed furnitur'ed with sheets blankets counterpains and quilts one ovel black walnut table half a dozen chairs one chest earthenware consisting of bowles dishes plates tea cups and saucers mugs drinking cups and glasses candle sticks and snuffers three trunks and sugar trunk two bedsteads and cords one looking glass one small pot and dutch oven and ten pounds to be raised out of my estate. The above being of rather less value than what she my wife possesst before marriage.

After the widowhood of my wife I desire that my estate both real and personal be sold and divided (in peace) among my children as followeth—

I give to my sons Benj' Edward David Henry and Samuel

one fourth of the amount of the estate or to their surviving children

I desire that the remaining three fourth of my estate be equally divided in five parts among my daughters VIZ Aga Pulliam Mary Richardson the children of my deceased daughter Sarah Arthur Susannah Johnson and winifred Moore if she shall survive her husband William Moore if she does not survive him the same to her children.

I lend to my wife the land and plantation whereone I now live and bounded by Seneca Creek Rogers branch and Edward Terrell's lines during her widowhood.

I lend to my wife and my son David during her widowhood the land hereafter mentioned to-wit

Beginning at a white oak in the bank of Seneca Creek—Then follows the description of the outlines. David was to have the benefit of part of the land.

I give to my son David all the remainder of the tract of land where on he now lives containing one hundred and seventy acres be is the same more or less After the widowhood of my wife I give to my son David all the land I lent him and my wife on the south side of Seneca Creek and one and a half acre that I purchased of George R. Walker adjoining the same to him his heirs or assigns forever.

I give to my brother Chiles Terrell 400 acres of land in Halifax County lying on the branches of Miry Creek or so much of it as I have a right of conveyance to him and his heirs or assigns forever.

My will is that eighteen pounds be raised out of my estate and equally divided between David and Judith Fowler the children of John Fowler by his wife Ann If either of them should die before they shall come of lawful age or marry the other shall possess the whole or if both should die—desire the whole be equally divided among all John Fowler's children by Ann his wife.

After all my debts are paid I lend to my wife during her widowhood all my personal estate if any shall remain and she may lend or give any part of the personal estate lent to her to any of my children that she may think needy or deserving and it shall be as valid as if I had done it myself.

I appoint my wife executrix Henry Brown Edmund Haddon and my son David executors of this my last will and testament and do give my surviving executors or either of them power of conveyance of my lands to the purchaser.

In witness hereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this tenth day of the second month eighteen hundred and four.

Molly's Creek Church is old Saint John's, near Gladys in Campbell Co., Virginia.

Davis's Mill was probably where Marysville is now, on Seneca Creek, about a mile from where it flows into Staunton River, in Campbell County. I judge that David Terrell lived on Seneca Creek, and probably Micajah Terrell did also. Charles Lynch Terrell lived about a mile from my home, between Avoca and Altavista.

ADDENDUM

It had been my intention to leave out of this compilation the latest generations, believing that with a fairly accurate historic background each interested family could work out a history. Since the book has been in the press, requests have come for later data, therefore the reason for the addition which embraces only a few of families belonging to the David Terrell group.
